NEW ORDNANCE HOUSE FOR FORT SHAFTER

The Kahauiki reservation is being materially improved just now by the erection of an ordnance storehouse. The new building is of reinforced concrete and will not only add to the splendid group of buildings already at Fort Shafter but will be of substantial use as well. The neighborhood selected for the new ordnance storehouse is much more centrally located than the temporary quarters that have been serving to house the ammunition. It is just across a reservation road from the forage storehouse and next to the post shops.

The depot of ordnance stores is now situated in a lonely position on the hill a short distance from the administrative building. It will be some weeks yet before the ordnance house will be finished. The quartermaster's department has the construction work in hand.

Twentieth on Hike.

Companies E, F and G of the second battalion of the Twentieth Infantry took up their line of march for a three days hike on Tuesday. The three companies were commanded by First Lieut. John S. McCreery, who, in addition to being the ranking officer of the expedition, commands Company E.

Lieut. George C. Bowen commanded Company F with Lieut. A. W. Chilton at the head of Company G.

The troops were equipped in full marching attire and marched from Fort Shafter to Pearl Harbor. An escort wagon with a field stove and commissary provisions was allowed each company, rations for three days being carried. On Thursday, just at noon, the commanding officer of the march, with his two orderlies, appeared at the entrance to the Kahauiki reservation returning from a pleasantly successful march and maneuvering trip according to regulations. Three cheers were given by the men as each company reached their barracks home at Fort Shafter.

Temporary Commandant.

Lieut. John S. McCreery, Twentieth Infantry, dispensed the duties and bore the honor of post commander of the Kahauiki reservation for eight days during the absence of Capt. William H. H. Chapman, Twentieth Infantry.

Capt. William H. H. Chapman, Twentieth Infantry and family and friends returned on Tuesday, July 26, to Fort Shafter from a camping out trip of a week across the island.

One Company at Post.

Lieut. A. M. Pardee, Twentieth Infantry, in command of Company H of his regiment, started on a hike to last several days early Friday morning. During the absence of the other three companies of the Twentieth Infantry on a three days maneuvering trip during the past week, Company H held the fort at the Kahauiki reservation; being the only troops in the post.

Now that the rainy season for this part of the world is supposed to have ended, the field maneuvers and company drills of the boys wearing the khaki are fully inaugurated. The rehearsals take place during the early evening hours as well as by daylight.

WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS SAY

The Novelty Theater.

Wise and Milton will give one of their amusing comedy sketches at the Novelty tomorrow night. Trouble in Darktown, is the title and the story takes the audience through the black belt. There will be songs galore included in the list—their Eye, Baseball and Suicide songs. There is an entire change of program at the Novelty every Monday and Thursday nights. Undoubtedly on the hill is the great sketch by these clever comedians "Maori, Haka." It is said to be replete with clever situations.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. C. W. Booth and family wish to express their appreciation of the kindness and sympathy shown in their bereavement.

The big safe of the Tula Store succumbed to the heat of the fire and the entire contents were totally destroyed. The gold, silver and nickels in it were fused in one mass. The vault of the plantation office was unharmed.

NOTICE TO MEAT BUYERS.

In view of statements recently published, the undersigned, owning the only slaughter house in Honolulu, desires to state that the only use it has ever made of tuberculosis cattle is to boil down the carcasses for tallow, and that they have never been sold for beef, either to Chinese or any one else, any cattle or carcass which upon post mortem examination has been pronounced tubercular.
